Herald, World and Post on the Election—Frauds—Hoffman's Election to be Contested—Heavy Robbery—Probable Contested Election.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, November 4. 1868.

NEW YORK PRESS ON THE ELECTION.

The Herald says: With the candidates the Democracy selected to carry the standard nothing but defeat was to be expected, and we suppose not even the most sanguine of the party anticipated any other termination than the election of Grant. "Let us have peace" is his motto, and we look now to see these words converted into acts; to see the olive branch substituted for the sword in the Southern States, negro supremacy quietly superceded and such measures adopted as will create harmony out of discord in the genial and fruitful portion of our country comprised in the States now suffering from a mistaken and vindictive policy, and we look hopefully to this that after the 4th of March next there will be a check put upon the monstrous corruptions which prevail in all the departments of the government; that economy shall succeed extravagance in the disbursement of the public funds, that the public debt shall be reduced as rapidly as possible, and that the taxes which press upon the people shall be made more easy to bear. The people expect that Gen. Grant shall accomplish all.

The World says: "It is not merely as a representative of a beaten party pouring oil upon the wounds, that we vindicate in this the very crisis of our misfortune, and as we believe of the country's calamity, the ardor and courage but the desperateness of our struggle. Rather do we proclaim in this most trying hour, speaking for a party serenely secure of possessing the future of our country and of moulding her magnificent destinies when itself shall have been purged and moulded for that imperial task, an unshaken and unshakeable confidence in its puissant and undying youth, which out of disaster will gather discipline; out of misfortune patience and unconquerable courage; out of a blunder wisdom and a settled will to accomplish this great work. Here and now, therefore, upon a battle-field which has been lost, do we invite beneath undishonored standards the youth and manhood of our time."

OUTRAGEOUS FRAUDS—HOFFMAN'S ELECTION TO BE CONTESTED.

The Post says the election is the absording topic of conversation in the city to-day, and the outrageous frauds committed by the Tammany leaders is denounced by all honest men. The fraudulent vote is estimated at over 25,000. The authorities have evidence that 15,000 illegal votes were cast, and Hoffman's election will be contested.

The Captain General is strangely reticent, and a deputation of leading citizens who called on him were insulted by an officer of his household, and the leader ordered to Spain. The relations of Prussia with all foreign powers were satisfactory and friendly. He hoped Spain would succeed in independently reconstituting her affairs on a basis which would render the future welfare of her people secure. He concluded by declaring that the wishes of Sovereigns, and the public cravings for peace would ensure peace, and should remove those groundless fears of which advantage is too often taken by the enemies of peace.

SOUTH AMERICA.

Progress of the Haytien War.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

HAVANA, November 4.—The Haytien war vessels Pelion and Solnave have bombarded the port of Jeremie for three days. President Solnave commanded in person. The American, English and French Consuls demanded that time be allowed for the removal of the women and children, but the request was denied and the bombardment commenced without further notice. Many women and children were killed. All the houses in the city, including the Consular offices, are destroyed or badly damaged. An attack was made by the land force during the bombardment, but it failed. A British man-of-war is on the way to Jeremie to watch the proceedings of the Haytien fleet and prevent any violation of the rights of foreign residents, for which they show little respect.

The excitement against the Americans is increasing. This hostility is caused in part by the fact that the Haytien Government was furnished with its war vessels by American ship owners, and that these vessels are manned by Americans, who do not refuse to execute the cruel orders of Solnave. It is expected the bombardment of Incmel will soon follow. That place is protected by batteries, in which some good ordnance is mounted, and if attacked will make a reasolute defense.

RICHMOND, November 4.—The Chamber of Commerce held a meeting to-day and adopted resolutions favoring the unity of the railroad lines of the States from the Atlantic to the west, and deploring the sale of the State's interest in any road whereby trade may be turned from Virginia. It was stated that an effort was being made in the interest of Baltimore to buy the State's interest in the Virginia and Tennessee Railroads.

The County Christian Convention.

The call for this Convention having been published at the suggestion of a number of the ministers of the city by the Young Men's Christian Association, has been sent to all the evangelical churches of the county. It is to convene in the Second Presbyterian Church, (Dr. Howard's) Penn street, on Tuesday evening, November 10th, continuing in session Wednesday and Thursday. On Thursday evening will be held the anniversary exercises of the Young Men's Christian Association, and on Friday evening the anniversary exercises of the Women's Christian Association, with interesting reports and addresses pertaining to the past and future work of both associations. The object of this Convention is to cultivate a friendly co-operation among evangelical churches and a hearty union of all sincere christians in sympathy, prayer and activity, to concentrate by discussion the experience and thought of many successful workers upon the different departments and questions of christian effort and develop a deeper sense of personal obligation and responsibility among church membership. Although it is requested that every church be represented by its pastor and one or two lay delegates, it is desired that all our citizens should feel it their duty and privilege to attend the sessions, and get the benefit of the discussions of the Convention. The topics for discussion have been arranged for the different meetings as follows:

Tuesday Evening, Conference and Prayer for the presence and favor of the Holy Spirit.

Wednesday Morning, What are the Christian's opportunities to do good, at home, in the church, and as a member of society?

Wednesday Afternoon, How can the Christian activities of the entire membership of any particular church be best organized and developed?

Wednesday Evening, Devotional Meetings at the church, cottage prayer meetings, open air meetings.

Thursday Morning, The organization and work of City Missions. How shall we reach the poor, the degraded, and all who do not attend public worship?

Thursday Afternoon, Experience, encouragements and methods in Lay Preaching and other personal effort to win souls to Christ. How shall the unconverted be approached?

Thursday Evening, What is the work of Young Men's Christian Associations?

Curious Termination of a Murder Trial.

A murder trial met with a curious termination in Henry county, Illinois, last week. The case was a trial of a man named Hamilton on an indictment for murder. A jury was empannelled and the witnesses for the prosecution examined, showing a clear case of murder against the defendant. At this stage of the proceedings the counsel for the defence asked leave to enter a plea of guilty of manslaughter. This was refused. The prisoner then pleaded guilty of murder as charged in the indictment. The court accepted the plea and discharged the jury, there being no question of guilt for them to pass upon, and here is where the case assumes an alarming shape. The General Assembly of that State at its last session passed a law that in all cases where felonies are punishable with death, the jury may return a verdict of guilty, and as a part of the verdict are required to determine whether the prisoner shall suffer death by hanging or be imprisoned in the penitentiary for life, or for not less than fourteen years; and that no person shall be sentenced by any court unless the jury shall have so found in their verdict upon trial. The judge held that upon a plea of guilty the court could not sentence a prisoner to death, but must imprison him for one of the terms named in the law. This construction on the law makes it easy to avoid the death penalty in Illinois.

NELLY.

Only a little child,
Who sings all day in the street,
Such a tuneless song,
To an idle throng.
Who pity her shoeless feet:
A poor, pale, sickly child!
With clothes so ragged and mean,
And a wild, weird face,
On which ne'er a trace
Of childhood's joy can be seen.

Out in the damp, wet fog,
Out in the sleet and rain,
Out when the cold wind
Sends its blasts unkind
Through her again and again:
Out in the dreadful night,
By the hinge of the tavern door,
In hope as she sings
Of the pity that flings
Some pence on the beer-stained floor.

Mothers who pass her by,
Shudder with terrible fear,
Praying her fate
Never be some day
That of her little ones dear;
Children who hear her sing,
Stare at her features so wild,
Offer her little life ponder,
Thinking with wonder,
"What, can she too be a child?"

Out in the damp, wet fog,
Out in the sleet and rain,
Out when the cold wind
Sends its blast unkind
Through her again and again.
Brought up in Satan's school,
Hell's abyss falling in;
Is there no pity
In this great city
To save her from shame and sin?

—There has recently been established in Chicago a newspaper devoted exclusively to architecture and its kindred arts, which is calculated to supply a want hitherto greatly felt throughout the length and breadth of our country. It is called the American Builder and Journal of Art, and is published weekly. The paper and letter press of the sheet are of the finest description and its appearance would do credit to any publication of Eastern cities. The matter of the journal consists of articles useful to the architect and general builder and commends itself to the attention of the general public, in no ordinary degree. It is published by J. C. Adams, Esq., of Chicago, Illinois.

SOFT SHELL DOUGHNUTS.—A few days ago, George S., a salesman of "renown," having a Western customer in tow, dropped into the Cafe Haven for lunch. Boston cream cakes and coffee were ordered and discussed, to the delight of the Western man, to whom the cakes were a novelty and the quality of the beverage a surprise. The next day he was eager to repeat his pleasant experiment, and wanted George to lunch at the same place. Arrived at the saloon and seated at the table, the Hoosier summoned one of the attendant nymphs and said:

"We want strong coffee for two, and—and"—but the word cream cakes had escaped from his memory, so turning to George, he asked in a heavy "aside," which attracted the attention of the room:

"What's the name of those soft cakes we had yesterday, Geordie?"

George whispered a word in his ear, and he turned to the expectant damsel with:

"Strong coffee for two, and a plate of them soft shell doughnuts!"—Commercial Bulletin.

PERUVIAN MUMMIES.—The statement that during the recent earthquake at Arica, Peru, five hundred mummies were thrown to the surface, is confirmed by travelers, who report that the desert hills in that region are filled with the dessicated bodies of the aborigines. The preservation of these remains of mortality is attributed to the climate, and also to the soil, which is impregnated with nitre. The bodies of the natives are interred in shallow graves, and the wind removes the light sands covering them, so that even in ordinary times hundred of so-called mummies, wrapped in coarse grass matting, or in crumbling nets, have been exposed.

Financial Matters in New York.

Gold Closed at 132¾@132⅞.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, November 4, 1868.

MONEY AND GOLD.

Money active but stringent at 7 per cent. gold to 7 per cent. currency, with a commission added of ¼@½ per cent.; the market was rather easier after bank hours and loans were made at 7 per cent. currency. The Express says: Aiken & Co., produce merchants, have suspended. A number of other names are reported but not authenticated. Sterling steady at 9⅛@9⅞. Gold lower; opened at 133⅛ and closed at 132¾@132⅞. The Clearing House to-day limited the amount of certificates to be used in daily clearings at $20,000,000, but it was unlike that over $10,000,000 would be brought into use. The certificates are to be stamped as payable in legal tenders, and the new plan goes into operation on Friday, though it is hardly likely to give any marked relief to the money market.

GOVERNMENTS.

Governments unsettled and lower, and closed weak. Coupons of 1881, 115¼@115½; do. '62, 108@108¼; do. '64, 105¼@106; do. '65, 105½@106; do. new, 109@109¼; do. '67, 109¾@109⅝; do. '68, 110@110¼; 10-40s, 105@105½.

STOCKS.

Stocks are depressed and verging on a panic. The pressure to sell is increased by rumors that some railway companies intend to increase their capital by fresh sales of stock. The average decline is 2@3 per cent., but St. Paul is down 4 per cent. and Pacific Mail 5@6.

Tee Lorena, it was expected would get off for St. Louis, sometime last night.

The J. N. McCullough was expected in last evening.

The Cincinnati Gazette the other day contained a very humorous notice of Capts. Ed. Evans, Sam Shuman, Barney Martin, J. M. Vandergrift, and Mr. Boggs, painter. These gentlemen on Monday forwarded to the river reporter of that paper, as a testimonial of their high regard, by express, a box containing a pair of brogans, well put together with the largest sized hob nails; a head of cabbage, together with turnips sweet potatoes, and a large soup bone. The vegetables were furnished by Evans, Dallas & Gilmore, and the soup bone by Andy Ackley. The brogans were selected at auction and cost, we understand, one dollar and twenty cents. It was a palatable if not very valuable, testimonial, and the Gazette man will have material enough to make a very large bowl of soup.

The Bayard, Capt. A. S. Shepard, is the regular packet for Parkersburg to-day, leaving promptly at noon.

The Maggie Hays, Capt. Martin, is now in turn for St. Louis, and will doubtless be the first boat out.

The Arkansas, Capt. A. H. Shaw, is announced for New Orleans, as is also the Ida Rees and Armadillo.

Capt. J. T. Stockdale is superintending the construction of a new boat for a river in South America.

The Kenton, which boat has been in the Cincinnati and Pomeroy trade in place of the Fleetwood, left Cincinnati on Monday to resume business in the Pittsburgh and Portsmouth trade.

The Glendale cleared for St. Louis last evening with an excellent trip. The New York, if she did not get off for Cincinnati last night, will leave at an early hour this morning.

The Messenger was expected in last night.

—The St. Marys arrived at New Orleans on the first of November.

—The St. Charles was to left Cincinnati for Pittsburgh on Tuesday evoning.

—The Cora S., recently sunk in Arkansas river, but afterward raised, is expected at Cincinnati. She will return immediately.

—Capt. W. W. Fenton has purchased a one-fourth interest in the New Orleans. Express line steamer Swallow. Terms private.

—The following boats were to have left Cincinnati for Pittsburgh on Wednesday: Kate Putnam, Leonidas, Wauanita and Bellevernon, from St. Louis, and Glasgow, from Louisville.

—The Tom Farrow took one of her barges from Cincinnati to Aurora on Monday evening, where it will be loaded with hay for Pittsburgh at $6 per ton for tight pressed, and $7 for loose.

—The steamer Helena, laden with government freight for Fort Randall, sunk on Saturday, forty miles below Sioux City, in Missouri river. A part of her cargo will be saved. It is said that she is insured partly in Cincinnati.

—Pilots to Memphis have for some time past been receiving a salary of $75 per trip, but now they are refusing to work for anything less than $100 per trip to Memphis. New Orleans pilots have raised their wages to $200 each per month, or the round trip.

—The Louisville Democrat says: The towboat pilots are talking about emigrating to some "lonely isle of the sea." Wages have been cut down so they can't live here. The river has run dry, times are hard, meat high, and they are about "played out."

—We clip the following from the Cincinnati Commercial: Rezin Jamison, pilot of the Belle Lee, has just returned from a big hunting excursion down in Harrison Co., Ind. He was gone two weeks, during which time he shot, and cleaned 250 squirrels. He says he ain't fond of squirrels either.

—A Louisville telegram says: The Empire on her arrival at the wharf was attached at the suit of S. M. Lemont & Co., A. F. Calvert and Smyser & Milton for $4,600, the value of a lot of flour shipped on that steamer about one year ago for New Orleans, with privilege of reshipping at Cairo. The flour was reshipped on a barge at Cairo, and lost by the sinking of the barge. The necessary bond was given and the boat proceeded on her way.

—The city of Louisville wants only ten millions of dollars to dig a canal around the city. The Democrat says the Mayor's plan is this: "A canal deep and wide enough to admit of the passage of all class steamers, is to commence at or near the waterworks, above the city, run southwest, and end on and with the south branch of what is known as Paddy's Run. At all seasons of the year there will be sufficient water in the river at both ends of this canal. The increased tax on property, together with the pay for water power along the canal, will pay the capital and interest on the money invested. The advantages to be derived from the structure will be great to this city.

DISEASED LUNGS.

There is no doubt whatever that diseases of the lungs, or ulcers of whatever sort, on any of the internal organs may be, and are frequently cured, and a complete condition of health established. If the elaborative functions, of which the stomach is the primary and most important one, are restored to a condition to do the repairing of the human system, ulcers or sores, whether upon the lungs, the liver, the kidneys or the bowels, or upon the legs, as is frequently the case, can be made to heal, and a complete standard of health re-established.

We have frequently seen these results from the use of Dr. KEYSER'S LUNG CURE, a pleasant and agreeable medicine, which will ripen up and carry out of the animal economy all effete and used up material. Dr. K. says that he has known the most distressing and harassing coughs, whose vibrations would threaten to shake the whole constitution to pieces, removed in the course of a few days In long standing cases of consumption, or of other sometimes fatal, but always troublesome and annoying maladies, known as catarrh, chronic bronchitis, trachitis or pharyngitis, it is a wonderful alleviating medicine in the former and a sure cure in he latter disease.

DR. KEYSER'S LUNG CURE IS ENRICHED BY SOME OF THE MOST VALUABLE PLANTS AND HERBS KNOWN TO BE USEFUL AND CURATIVE IN ALL DETERIORATED STATES OF THE HUMAN BLOOD, and whilst it adds to its plasma, it at the same time stimulates, gently but effectively, the skin, the kidneys, the liver and the glandular system to sufficient action to enable the body to take on healthful action and eradicate the disease. The sick and afflicted should bear in mind the virtues of this great medicine, and if those who are sufficiently alive to the importance of health, will resort to it in the beginning of a cough or cold, there would be no failing into declines and rapid consumption, hopelessly incurable and so most surely fatal.

A DISTINGUISHED VISITOR.

We understand that Hon. SCHUYLER COLFAX, Vice President elect of the United States, is expected to reach this city to-day, on a visit to a personal friend, one of our citizens. Should this information prove to be correct, we feel quite safe in predicting that our people will find some way of testifying to him personally their gratification in his presence, as well as in his election to that high office.

REPOSTING THE BOOKS.

Additional returns of the elections held last Tuesday, make it reasonably certain that the Republicans carried the following States:

Maine	7	Wisconsin	8
New Hampshire	5	Iowa	8
Vermont	5	Minnesota	4
Massachusetts	12	Kansas	3
Rhode Island	4	Nebraska	3
Connecticut	6	Nevada	3
Pennsylvania	26	Mississippi	11
Ohio	21	West Virginia	5
Indiana	13	Florida	3
Illinois	16	Tennesssee	10
Michigan	8	California	5
Oregon	3
Total	189

That the Democrats carried:

New Jersey	7	Kentucky	11
New York	33	Alabama	8
Delaware	3	Arkansas	5
Maryland	7	Louisiana	7
Georgia	9
Total	90

Leaving in more or less uncertainty.

North Carolina	9	South Carolina	6
Total	15

With probabilities that the Republican Electors were chosen in both.

There are besides three unreconstructed States, in which Presidential elections were not held, which are:

Texas	6	Mississippi	7
Virginia	10
Total	23

Excluding these three States, there are 294 electoral votes, of which 148 constitute a majority. If the official returns shall show the Republican States to be as enunciated above, the majorities of GRANT and COLFAX in the Electoral College will be 45.

Including the three unreconstructed States, the aggregate electoral votes are 317, of which 159 constitute a majority. Upon this basis, the Republican States standing as in the table above, GRANT and COLFAX's majority is 31.

COL. JOHN H. STEWART, Secretary of the Union Republican Committee of this county, has earned a large share in the meed of honor, which must be given to all who have organized our great victory. Associated with the Chairman, Col. ERRETT, these two gentlemen have held the laboring oar as the Executive officials of the Committee, and to them, equally in their several capacities as in their joint direction of the Union array, the friends of GRANT and COLFAX acknowledge gratitude for services which may not be too highly estimated and cannot be too clearly remembered.

THE LIST, in yesterday's GAZETTE, of the Republican orators of Allegheny county, prepared in much haste, at a late hour, in the midst of Tuesday evening's exciting whirl, was doubtless imperfect. In no other way, can we explain, even to ourselves, the omission therefrom of the name of a speaker effective and acceptable as JOHN DALZELL, Esq., has been. Throughout the canvass, he, like others, has been a minute-man, and has done more than yeoman service in the good cause.

IT WAS difficult to recognize the Zanesville Courier, when it came to us, a day or two since, in new and handsome type, and a "make-up" in every way improved. Our own regard for the Courier is not far from paternal, hence we are the more gratified to note its present success.

THE VERDICT OF THE PEOPLE.

For eight years the Democratic leaders have striven to screen their disloyalty to the Government, and their sympathy with the men who sought its destruction, behind the assumption that Congress did not represent constitutionally the American people, but only a fanatical and malignant faction, which had managed by culpable artifices to foist itself into the possession of power, and would be swept into retirement and disgrace so soon as a fair expression of the popular will should be obtained. Of course, they were not sincere in parading this allegation. All the essential facts of the presidential canvass of 1860 were fresh in their recollections, and substantially as they had passed into authentic and indisputable history. They understood full well that the revolt was conceived and organized because, by many pregnant signs, it was made certain in advance that the principles and measures for the upholding of which the Democratic party had labored through a long succession of years, would be repudiated by overwhelming majorities at the ballot-boxes, and their party, having forfeited public confidence, would be banished from the high places of authority in which it had not only failed rightfully to use its opportunities, but had committed unpardonable crimes against Personal Liberty, Equality, and Social Order. When the judgment of the people was pronounced, in November of that year, the plot which had been matured with a depth of cunning and an obduracy of hatred, seldom paralleled and never over-match ed, was instantly disclosed by being put into vigorous execution. The determination of the people, expressed in accordance with the Constitution and the Laws, no longer to trust the control of the Government with the Democrats, excited their vengeance and involved the Republic in the most gigantic civil war of modern times.

Nor was the popular judgment less clear or emphatic in 1864. It is true that ten States did not participate in the canvass which resulted in the second election of Mr. LINCOLN to the Presidency. They did not desire to share therein; for they then had a separate government of their own, formed to suit the wishes of their populations, to which their populations had sworn allegiaance, and in defence of which they had imperilled all they held most dear as men and citizens, and if they had desired to bear a part in that canvass, for stategic or other purposes, their claim would have been entirely inadmissible. To have admitted its validity would have been an offence against the laws, and an assault upon the dignity of the Government, only equalled in flagrancy by the warlike acts of the rebels themselves.

The plea of the Democratic chieftains that it was necessary for these ten States to take a part in that election in order to invest its final decision with legality, was so unnatural and monstrous as to make perfectly manifest the incivism which was at the bottom of it. Such a pretense, set up in behalf of State governments and masses of population arrayed in hostility to the federal government, was susceptible of only one interpretation, and that not only damaging, but absolutely fatal, to those who made it.

But these chieftains professed not to see what was so obvious to all the world besides as to place it beyond dubitation. Borrowing a phrase from English history, and using it in a sense to show out of what fountain their sympathies ran and to what end subsidiary, they styled Congress "The Rump." Rebel States and insurgent populations were not allowed representation in it, and hence the words of the Constitution were invoked by its enemies to destroy its spirit, and to justify the most gigantic political crimes of modern ages.

Day before yesterday the people of all the States but three once again went to the ballot-boxes to determine, under the Constitution and the Laws, which two citizens, for the ensuing four years, should exercise the functions of President and Vice President of the United States. In each one of these States certain classes of citizens were debarred from the right of suffrage. In all of them women, criminals, idiots and paupers. This collocation is suggestive to such readers as go below the surface of things to seek out occult and hidden causes. Among the criminals laid under the ban, were a considerable number who had been guilty, not of breaches of the ordinary penal code, but of political crimes of the gravest magnitude, insomuch that the laws prescribe the same punishment for them as for murder. In certain of these States men were denied the right to vote, not for any of the causes already specified, but because of the color of their skins. On the whole, not only an absolutely greater number of citizens voted than ever before at a Presidential contest, but a considerably larger proportion of the aggregate adult male citizens. The basis of the Government has been broadened, to the displeasure of caste, and in vindication of genuinely democratic ideas.

In only three States were the ballot-boxes closed; and in those because their inhabitants respectively, with the consequences so fully presented to them that they could not fall into mistake, would not consent to the conditions of restoration to the Union which Congress, not in wrath, but from precautionary motives, originating in the experience of all ages and nations, judged it necessary to prescribe.

Nor must it escape observation in this connection that organized and formidable resistance has been made, during the canvass to assemblages of the people for the discussion of public questions, only by the Democratic party, and in States which went into the Rebellion. All over the revolted States the Democrats instituted a system of terrorism so pervasive that it reached into every county, township and school district, and so merciless that it filled the hearts of the bravest with apprehensions. Hundreds and thousands of Republicans were actually slaughtered; private assassination or tumultuary murder being resorted to as the circumstances of each case seemed to suggest. On the day of election the polls were seized at New Orleans and other places, and the right of Republicans to vote was denied in the most high-handed manner.

Throughout the North the Democrats adopted a system of frauds so vast that they felt an almost absolute certainty that to defeat them was impossible; and so shameless were they in the execution thereof that many of the Judges who consented to degrade their personal characters and their high functions by becoming instruments in this nefarious business, have been arrested to answer criminal proceedings against them. For each one who has been thus arrested a score more ought to be. Some inconsiderate Republicans pour out their censures upon the ignorant men who greedily consented to vote upon false naturalization papers; and surely what is witnessed in this particular is sufficient to stir indignation in the breast of every honest citizen. But what shall be said of the educated Democrats, who enjoy eminent social positions, and who are reputed pillars in various churches, who manufacture fraudulent certificates, either in person or by proxy, and cause votes to be cast in virtue of them? But for these men who are held up as models of social propriety and as ensamples of all saintly excellences, ignorant or depraved men who become their dupes or allies would be comparatively powerless for evil. Men and brethren! think on this matter, and then let the bolt of salutary vengeance fall where there is greatest need of it.

Nevertheless the Verdict of the People has not been perverted. Violence and fraud have done their worst, lessening by tens of thousands the popular majority for GRANT and COLFAX; but still that majority is enough to silence the most audacious caviler in the Democratic ranks. The People have spoken with an emphasis they alone, as the sovereign authority, have a right to exhibit, and they have sternly rebuked the Democratic leaders as well for their arrogant and offensive deportment as for the false and injurious principles they uphold. Henceforward only men who have forfeited their self-respect and consequently have no claims upon the respect of others, will venture to stigmatize the legislative department as "the rump Congress."

But this is not all, nor chiefest. As we said yesterday, the People have decided that incendiary and insurrectionary violence shall cease throughout the Southern States; that Republicans shall be as secure in the enjoyment of all the rights of citizenship in Texas, Arkansas and Alabama, as Democrats are in Pennsylvania, New York and Massachusetts. Nothing less than this will comport with the solemn verdict which has been rendered, or satisfy the expectation that has been awakened. Turbulent men may find submission to the laws and a just and spontaneous recognition of the immunities of their opponents hard to practice, but that they should be sternly taught their duties in this regard is essential to all proper conceptions of personal liberty and of the functions of government. Fortunately the Presidency will soon devolve on one who understands the true theory of administration, and is in perfect harmony with the law-making department of the nation. The New Era dawns at last, and with a brightness and beauty that gladdens the hearts of all patriots.

GRANT'S PRESENT DUTY.

The intimation that General GRANT contemplated an early resignation of his important military charge in the chief command of the armies, does not address itself to the judgment, nor has it even secured the credence of the people. We doubt it in point of fact—and all the more seriously since many friends of the Union would regard such a step as, for the present, premature. While the functions of the General-in-Chief would ordinarily appear to have an exclusively military character, circumstances invest it, in the present position of affairs in a broad section of the land, with the highest civil responsibilities. Gen. GRANT, not President JOHNSON, has been for the past twelve months, the only conservator of the public peace. It is he who has given to the domestic policy of the Nation, in that regard, all that has been found successful in its administration. In whatever has concerned reconstruction, and in the large degree with which reconstruction has overshadowed and given coloring to all other questions whatever in our internal policy, this Union owes it to General GRANT rather than to his nominal superior, that the Southern reign of terrorism over individuals has not been suffered to ripen into an open and organized revolution. Herein, the country finds ample justification for demanding his continued services until that hour when, with the least possible interregnum of Johnsonian latitude, the General shall doff the stars for the robe of Chief Magistrate. The Republic cannot resign one hair's breadth of its loyal mastery over a situation which is, and may yet continue to be, too gravely critical to be ignored, or to be remitted to any chance.

HIGHWAY ROBBERY.—A man named Wilson, who arrived in this city at noon yesterday on a freight train, had an encounter with three highwaymen on Tuesday evening, near Summit, and came out of the conflict in a terribly damaged condition. The robbers choked him until he became senseless and then disfigured his countenance badly. All of his money ($43) was taken from him, as well as his valise and pocket knife. Upon his arrival here he met Dr. Croombs, who dressed his wounds and gave him money to pay for his dinner. Mr. Jackman, of the Chicago and St. Louis Railroad, afterward gave him a pass to St. Louis. He had in his possession letters from the officers of the Young Men's Christian Association of Detroit, which recommended him highly. This is his first visit to Illinois, and thus far it has proved a severe one.—Bloomington Pantagraph.

A LONDON paper says that it is not generally understood how the all-alive full-sized train passes along the stage in the new sensational scene. The other night, at the Surrey Theatre, the audience were enlightened. The engine met with an obstruction in the middle of the stage, stopped dead, and the following carriages and tender rushed on with the momentum, and shot one after the other into the engine, and closed up like a telescope. It was very effective, and, as a railway accident, was quite as remarkable as the running-over business.

An Affecting Scene in Court.

For several days past, John Doran, an an Orderly Sergeant in the United States army, has been on trial for complicity in the murder of Miss Ellen Hicks, at Throggs Neck, Westchester county, New York. Much sympathy was felt for Doran, who is a fine looking fellow, and the court room was crowded with men and women during the trial. On Saturday the case was concluded, the jury bringing in a verdict of not guilty, when a very affecting scene transpired. Doran's wife and two pretty and neatly dressed children, who had been in attendance each day, were in an anteroom. At ten minutes past eleven o'clock the door of the jury room opened, the Judges took their seats on the bench, and the jurors entered and took the seats assigned them. After their names were called, in response to the question by the clerk, "Gentlemen, how say you; do you find the prisoner at the bar guilty or not guilty?" the foreman arose and replied, "Not guilty." Doran arose like a bolt, with an indescribable expression on his face, and instantly the whole audience cheered, clapped their hands and stamped their feet in approval. A number of his comrades who were present clasped their arms around his neck and kissed him, and the ladies in the gallery leaned over to look down upon the scene, clapping their hands and waving their handkerchiefs. At this interesting juncture, Doran's wife entered hurriedly, and, crossing the room toward him, was clasped in his arms and repeatedly and affectionately kissed. A moment more and she seemed to be seized with hysterics, and began to scream and swooned. Doran took her to a seat and sat down with her on his knee, her head resting on his shoulder. She seemed partially to recover, and in a shrill, screaming voice, as it were in terror, cried, "Oh, darling, what are they going to do with you?" She evidently did not understand that he was free, and he, fearing from her actions that convulsions were seizing her, said tremulously, "My God! what shell I do for you, Julia?" The scene was intensely dramatic—it was more than dramatic, for it was reality seldom witnessed anywhere, and the general conception of which is only found on the stage. Tears started to the eyes of men who looked upon it.—New York paper.

Hobbies.

Nothing, observes a foreign writer, sweetens life so much as a hobby. As an ingredient in human happiness, it comes next to the possession of a quiet conscience. It matters not much what it is, whether its object be old books, or church architecture, or volunteering, or photography, its effects is the same. A man with a hobby is ennui-proof. He can snap his fingers at the aimlessness and listlessness which creep even into lives that are both useful and professional. All his leisure hours acquire a point and purpose. Released from his daily drudgery, he can potter over old bookstalls, or march his men to drill, or stain his fingers with acids, without finding one moment to hang heavy on his hands. The record of his day shows not merely "something achieved, something done," but, over and above, something enjoyed as only an enthusiast can enjoy it, something added to his store of pure and legitimate pleasure. And, though so me hobbies are less portable than others, the grand advantage of a hobby is that he can usually carry it with him, and with it a fund of inexhaustable interest, wherever he goes. His friend the rector may be dull, but the parish church is a friend of whom he never tires. Young ladies may be insipid, but the comparative merits of breechloaders and the relative efficiency of local corps are subjects which can always pleasantly engage his thoughts. When he travels, the Museum or the Picture Gallery is not a mere place to lounge away an hour in. In such places, if art be his specialty, he is on enchanted ground—in a fairy palace, into the subtle charm of which none but the initiated like himself can enter. Whatever be the nature of the hobby, and some hobbies of course are more elevating than others, the effect of all, so far as individual happiness is concerned, is the same—to provide a stream of pleasure which shall run, as it were, in a parallel line with the stream of a man's work. The grand point is to get a hobby; what specific form it assumes is a matter of secondary importance. Only let it be innocent, and, considering the peculiar frailty of the hobby rider, let us add, not too expensive.

Science-Teaching in England.

An interesting experiment took place recently in the Hartley Institution at Southampton, England, in the delivery of the first of a series of lectures on "Experimental Physics," to about two hundred boys selected from the national and other public schools in the neighborhood.

A London journal gives the following account of the objects expected to be gained by this experiment:

"The object which Dr. Bond has in view in making this experiment is two-fold; first, to prepare a certain number of the boys for the examinations of the Department of Science and Art, and for competition for the Local Science Exhibition, which has lately been founded by the council of the institution, in conjunction with the lords of the Privy Council for artisans in Southampton; and secondly, to lay the foundation of a regular system of science—teaching in the national schools of the neighborhood. It is hoped that this will be effected by the opportunity which the masters will have of qualifying themselves by attending the course for obtaining the science certificates of the Department of Science and Art, and thus earning payment for themselves on results. They will also be the better enabled, by having themselves heard the lecture, to prepare the boys in the subjects of each, to facilitate which, at the close of each lecture, a printed syllabus of the ensuing one is distributed at the door. We believe that this is the first occasion on which such an experiment as this has been made here or elsewhere, and we cannot but think that if it were followed generally the problem of how to introduce science into arthean schools, in the absence of trained teachers, which now prevails, would be simply and rapidly solved."

THERE was a social gathering at the house of Mr. H. Severance, at South Deerfield, Mass., on Thursday, and, including the members of the family, four in number, the aggregate age of the sixteen persons present amounted to 1,143 years—an average of over 71 years each. The names and ages, omitting the months, of the persons present were as follows: Captain Asa Parker, 84; Mrs. Parker, 76; Dea. Z. Graves, 80; Mrs. Graves, 75; Mr. Isaac Parker, 77; Mrs. Wood, 80; Major Wm. Hale, 76; Mrs. Hale, 76; Mr. Ira Billings, 75; Mrs. Mann, 72; Rev. J. Pomeroy, 64; Mrs. Pomeroy, 60; Rev. T. Packard, 66; Miss Nims, 65; Mr. H. Severance, 53; Mrs. Severance, 58.

ROSA BONHEUR has been incap acitated from painting during the last two or three months by a very malignant felon on the thumb of her right hand. A number of physiclans whom she has consulted in regard to it have been unable to give her any relief. She has grown very fretful in consequence of this untoward ailment, and refuses to admit any visitors.

CLIPPINGS.

FAIR AND FOUL PLAY.—A new novel by Mrs. Emma Southworth, entitled "Fair Play," is announced by T. B. Peterson & Brothers. The preface contains a challenge to Charles Reade and Dion Boucicault, authors of "Foul Play," to the following effect: "This work was first published in the New York Ledger, and copied in the London Journal in 1865 and 1866. 'Foul Play' is first publishsd in 1868, and with so much resemblance to this work, as might lead any reader of both stories to suspect a plagiarism on one hand or the other. This resemblance may be found in that which has been called 'the most beautiful and original part of each story, and which describes the strange situation of the shipwrecked lovers on the solitary Island—a situation, I think, perfectly unique in romance.' Now, while I utterly disclaim all intention to charge the distinguished authors of the last-published of these works with any real foul play, I feel compelled to state the order in which the two stories first appeared, to secure for myself and my own work fair play."

THE Medical Press and Circular of Paris states that Mr Trecul and others have lately been engaged in investigating the cause of the autumeal stripping of trees, and their researches would seem to point to the conclusion that in many plants a phenomenon occurs just before the fall of the leaf, not unlike the shedding of horns in animals. It consists in the obstruction of the proper vessels at the base of the petiole or leaf stalk. The obstruction, according to an American writer, is caused by the multiplication of cells which first occurs in the parietes of the vessel. The cells increase till at last the vessels are completely choked up in the neighborhood of the insertion of the leaf, and thus a differential plane is formed, across which the leaf atalk breaks and the leaf accordingly falls.

THE Humbolt Medical Archives mentions several cases of tetanus (vulgarly called lock-jaw) which had been successfully treated by a local application of chloroform to the entire spinal column by means of cloth saturated with it, and evaporation prevented by covering the cloth with oiled silk. The application was made just at the approach of a paroxysm. As a result of the application the paroxysm was averted, and the patient fell into a calm and natural sleep. On feeling a returning paroxysm the same application was made, and the paroxysm again averted. For forty-eight hours the occasionally threatening tetanic symptoms immediately yielded to the application of chloroform, and the subsequent convalesence was very rapid.

AT A late examination of 57 divinity students in England, one of the questions—not a very profound one—was as to the meaning of the word "hypothesis." One of the candidates said that it meant "a machine for raising water;" another candidate said that it meant "something that happened to a man after his death." One of the historical questions was, "Give some account of Galileo and Copernicus," to which one of the students replied that Galileo was a man that had committed five murders; another that Galileo and Copernicus were two gentlemen who had fallen together in some battle; and a third said that Copernicus was a "compound of two metals."

BRITISH INDIA, it is reported, is threatened with a dearth which is feared will prove as destructive as the famine in the district of Orrisa, when two millions of persons died of starvation. There was scarcely any hot weather in May and June, and the rains, which began a month before the usual time, have done immense damage. The rice crops, including those which have been sown a second time are ruined. Orissa, and the district between Calcutta and the sea, have been deluged. Yet, while these heavy rains have fallen on the coast, the central districts are suffering still more from drought.

FIFTY CENTS PER BOX.

THE CONDITION OF THOUSANDS.

No appetite; no refreshing sleep; no cheerful thoughts; no disposition to labor; no inclination for society; no interest in anything; no desire to live, even; and yet no specific ailment which can be classed as a positive disease. Thousands, ay, tens of thousands, are in this condition—the martyrs of disabilities to which pathology assigns no technical name.

What is the source of their discomfort, mental and bodily? TORPOR OF THE STOMACH; and consequent upon that languor of the circulation, weakness of the nerves, and a clouded brain. What does common sense suggest as a remedy for this deficiency in vital power? Clearly, a RE-VITALIZING MEDICINE—something that will stimulate, tone and sustain the broken-down energies of nature. HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS meet the case exactly. In this beneficent TONIC are combined all the ingredients necessary to change the condition of the system, and bring the dormant organs into healthful action. In the fall of the year, when the night-dews are chill and heavy, and the morning fogs are charged with miasma, the body, debilitated by the heats of summer, is particularly susceptible to unwholesome influences. At this season, of all others, therefore, invigoration is required, both as a safeguard against fever and ague and other malarious disorders, and as a preparation for the searching cold of winter. Dyspepsia, bilious complaints, nervous disorders, and distressing affections of the bowels, are always more or less prevalent in October and November, and the surest and safest means of averting them is a course of this purest, mildest and most efficacious of all tonics and alternatives.

DISEASED LUNGS.

There is no doubt whatever that diseases of the lungs, or ulcers of whatever sort, on any of the internal organs may be and are frequently cured, and a complete condition of health established. If the elaborative functions, of which the stomach is the primary and most important one, are restored to a condition to do the repairing of the human system, ulcers or sores, whether upon the lungs, the liver, the kidneys or the bowels, or upon the legs, as is frequently the case, can be made to heal, and a complete standard of health re-established.

We have frequently seen these results from the use of Dr. KEYSER'S LUNG CURE, a pleasant and agreeable medicine, which will ripen up and carry out the animal economy all effete and used up material. Dr. KEYSER'S LUNG CURE is enriched by some of the most valuable plants and herbs known to be useful and curative in all deteriorated states of the human blood, and whilst it adds to its plasma, it at the same time stimulates, gently but effectively, the skin, the kidneys, the liver and the glandular system to sufficient action to enable the body to take on healthful action and eradicate the disease. The sick and afflicted should bear in mind the virtues of this great medicine, and if those who are sufficiently alive to the importance of health, will resort to it in the beginning of a cough or cold, there would be no falling into declines and rapid consumption, so hopelessly incurable, and so most surely fatal. Let any one afflicted with any pulmonary disease try but one bottle, and they will be convinced of the value of Dr. Keyser's LUNG CURE. Sold by the gross, dozen or single bottle, at Dr. KEYSER'S Great Medicine Store, 140 Wood St.

Judicial Statistics of England and Wales.

The criminal records of England and Wales for the year 1867 are fully set forth in the reports on the subject just published. The police force comprised 24,073 persons, whose aggregate yearly salaries amounted to $9,602,525. The persons known to belong to the criminal classes, including "tramps" and vagrants, 'suspected persons,'" numbered no less than 112,403, of whom 15,090 were under sixteen yoars of age; 65,010 males, and 47,339 females. The houses of bad character are returned at 20,-197. The indictable crimes known to have been committed in the year were 55,538, but of the perpetrators only 28,132 males and 21,496 females were apprehended, leaving about 8.5 per cent undiscovered. The cases of murder were one hundred and thirty-five, and attempts to murder forty-five. The cases of manslaughter were two hundred and sixty-six. The non-indictable offences committed in the year numbered 474,665, and the convictions 335,359, comprising 280,196 males, and 55,163 females. The daily average of persons imprisoned in ordinary prisons was 17,995, and the highest number at one time 22,282. The expenses of all kinds of the ordinary prisons for the year were $3,285,645, of which only $231,-650 was paid by profits from prisoners' labor. The convict prisons, which are accounted for separately, contained 9,524 convicts during the year. Five thousand one hundred and seventy-five persons were kept in custody in reformatories. The number of suicides committed in 1867 was 1,356.

A FOREIGN paper says history proves that there is a certain fatality attached to the occupation of the Papal chair by a Pius. Louis XVI. was beheaded under Pius VI. Napoleon I. was exiled to St. Helena under Pius VII. Charles X. lost his crown under Pius VIII. The occupation by Pius IX. has been curiously prolific in political disasters. Louis Philippe, Francis II. of Naples, King Otto of Greece, the King of Hanover and Isabella of Spain have been overthrown, and the pages of history have been darkened by the violent deaths of President Lincoln, Maximilian of Mexico, and Prince Michael of Servia.

"MARGARET MERLYN,"

IS THE TITLE OF

MRS. SWISSHELM'S

long talked of work. It is a tale of

WOMAN'S WAGES,

and abounds in the home truths for which the author is noted, and which are here interwoven with a dramatic interest, and that is unflagging to the end. An accomplished critic, who read it, says: "There is not a dull page in it." It gives startling revelations of the inside workings of private benevolent institutions, and must be deeply interesting to all who would like to know what sometimes is done with the money paid to charitable societies. It will be commenced as a serial and run eight months in the

ST. CLOUD JOURNAL,

the successor to Mrs. Swisshelm's, "St. Cloud (Minnesota Visitor," which is now the largest paper, and has double the circulation of any other in Northern Minnesota, and contains minute information of that most interesting portion of our unknown countries, "The Great Northwest."

FINANCE AND TRADE,

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, WEDNESDAY, November 4, 1868.

The stringency of the money market to day surpassed anything ever witnessed before in financial circles. Extravagant rates are asked for call loans, and readily acceded to by borrowers; seven per cent. gold interest on call loans and a commission of ⅛ to ¼ per cent. is freely offered. In consequence of such an abnormal condition, gold, which was strong yesterday, and today at 133⅜ and 133¾, respectively declined to 132¾ this evening, and lower prices are predicted to-morrow. All the money that can be raised within the next few days by the bull clique will be put on gold and bonds, (which can be carried in smaller margins) preparatory to a good rally.

Government bonds were firmer early in the day, but towards noon became weak and declined from ¼ to ⅜ per cent. After the one o'clock board there was a general decline of one per cent. on all governments; the total decline of to-day on governments was 1¾ per cent., and the tendency is for lower quotations to-morrow. The European markets for bonds are unfovorably affected by this sudden decline, and the causes will be attributed there to a want of confidence in having carried the election of Grant. It is asserted that fifteen millions of money are locked up by the bear combination, who are largely short of stocks, and calculate to force present holders to sell out at low rates.

Stocks have not yet yielded to the pressure of money, holders having provided money at low rates, which does not fall due before the end of December. The weakest stocks on the list are Fort Wayne, Cleveland, New York Central, Ohio & Mississippi and Reading; as a general thing, all the dividend paying stocks which are held on margins by speculators all over the country, while the comparotively worthless stocks are held by the cliques in New York, who hold their own stocks and throw their customers overboard.

In our local market the demand for money is also great, yet good borrowers can be supplied at from 8 to 12 per cent., but long paper is absolutely unsaleable, and 18 to 20 per cent. is offered. The high rate of interest in New York has caused a great many business notes from first-class houses to be offered here for discount, and 12 per cent. is the usual rate for No. 1 paper.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTBURGH GAZETTE, WEDNESDAY, November 4, 1868.

CRUDE.

The market continues very quiet, with but little doing, and no change whatever in prices. We can report 1,000 bbls, (40 to 45 gravity) on spot, at 11½c, and 1,000 (same gravity) for all November, seller's option, at 11½c. Light gravity is offering at 11c, without finding buyers, and heavy gravity oil is very scarce, both here and in the oil regions. It is only within the past few weeks that anything has been said about gravity, and some of our dealers, who, according to their contracts, have to deliver 40 to 45 gravity oil, experience considerable difficulty in getting it. In some cases, the seller has been obliged to make a reduction in consequence of gravity—the rule, we believe, where the oil does not come up to the requirements of contract, being to throw off two and a half per cent. It is a very nice way to get out of a high-priced contract, and is very frequently taken advantage of, and after all, from a legal stand point, there is nothing wrong about it, though it is not customary to higgle about degree or half a degree gravity.

REFINED.

The refined market continues quiet and without material change. We have but a single sale to record, 2,000 bbls on spot at 28½. We heard of offers to sell November separately, or November and December, together, at 28½, so that this figure may be regarded as the standard price for any delivery between now and January 1st. In regard to 1869, there is nothing new or important; the first half may be quoted at 29 to 29½, and all the year, 500 per month, at 31 to 31½.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, WEDNSDAY, November 4, 1868.

Now, that the election is over and the contest decided, we are in hopes that there will be a material improvement in business in all branches of trade, and that the dullness and stagnation which has so long prevailed will be succeeded by activity and bouyancy. One of the great obstacles that has been in the way of business since the commencement of the campaign, has been in regard to the course and management of the Government finances, each one of the contending parties having a different theory on this subject. Now, that the fight is over, and the Republicans successful, it is not likely that there will be any material change, and this, of course, will tend very much to restore confidence, and impart a more cheerful feeling.

GROCERIES—The grocery market continues dull, but now now that the election is over, and navigation resumed, an improvement in the demand may be expected. In prices there is no change worthy of notice. We quote:

SUGARS—Cuba, 12½c for good grocery 12¾ to 13c for prime; and 14c for choice; Porto Rico—good, 13c; prime, 13½; choice, 14½ to 15c; Clarified Cuba, 14 to 14½c. Refined—Standard Hard, 17c; A, 16c; B, 15¾c; Extra C, 15¼c; Sugar House, 10½ to 11.

COFFEE—Rio ranges all the way from 21¾ to 26½c for common to strictly prime. Java 37 to 38c.

SYRUPS—Lovering's $1,10; Silver Drips, $1,10; White Drips, $1,20; medium brands, 75 to 85c; common, 60 to 65c; Booth & Edgars yrup, $1.

RICE—Rangoon, good, 10½c; prime to choice, 11 to 11½c; Carolina, 12 to 12½c.

MOLASSES—New Orleans, 95 to $1,05; Cuba, 65 to 70c; Porto Rico, 75 to 90c.

SPICES—Cassia, 80 to 85c; Cloves 55c; Pepper, 38c; Allspice, 35c; Nutmegs, $1,50.

STARCH—Madison, 8c; Silver Gloss, 12½c, and Corn Starch, 13½c.

FRUITS—Layer Rasins, $4,75 per box; Valentia, 20c per lb; Prunes, 17c; Currants, 12½c for new.

BAR LEAD—12½c; Shot, $3,50 per bag.

SOAPS—"Babbit's," 12c; "Oakely's," 11½c; Rosin, 5 to 7c; "Dobbin's," 15c.

CANDLES—Mould, 16c; Star, 23c.

CONCENTRATED LYE—$8,00 per case.

BI CARB SODA—$8,50 per 100.

FISH—White Fish, $9,00. Lake Herring, $5,00; Mackerel No. 1, $22; No; 2, $18,00; No. 3, $13,50; in half barrels, 50c more.

APPLE BUTTER—Is quiet and unchanged; we continue to quote at 75c, in kegs, and 80 to 85c, in crocks.

APPLES—In good supply, with a steady demand, prices are maintained; ranging from $2 to $3,50 per bbl.

BUCKWHEAT FLOUR—Is dull but unchanged at 5 to 5¼c per pound.

BUTTER—There is no change in prices, and the market is dull; 30 to 35c for packed, ond 38 to 40c for prime Roll.

CIDER—In fair demand, with regular sales at $6 to $8 per bbl, as to quality and size of barrel.

CHESTNUTS—None in market.

CRANBERRIES—Western still quoted at $15 to $16. Prime Eastern Cultivated scarce and firm at $21 to $22.

CHEESE—Is steady, with regular sales at former quotations.

BEANS—Prime small white (new crop) quoted at $4 per bushel.

DRIED FRUIT—Small sales in store at 10 to 12 cents for apples, and 15 to 18 for peaches.

HAY—Baled continues to arrive freely, and the market is dull with a drooping tendency. We continue to quote however at $25 to $30. Sales at Allegheny Diamond Scales of 40 loads at $28 to $38, and 2 loads of Straw at $20.

GRAIN—The Grain market is completely demoralized, and there are no established prices. We continue to quote Winter Wheat at $1,80 to $1,85. There is some Spring Wheat offering but there seems to be no demand whatever. Corn is very irregular. Prime old Ear is scarce and in demand with a car load reported at $1,16. Shelled is dull with a sale at $1,10. New Corn is very dull, and cannot be quoted above 85. Rye is dull and droop ng; we are cognizant of it having been offered to-day at $1,40 without finding buyers. Oats dull and lower; sale 1 car load at 60 and another at 62; holders generally are asking 63 to 64. For Barley there seems to be no demand whatever, and it is impossible to give quotations.

POTATOES—Sales of Peach Blows by the car load at 85 to 90. Prime Jersey Sweets 35 per bbl.

SEEDS—Flaxseed is scarce and in steady demand at $2,50. Timothy seed dull with small sales at $3. Clover seed small sales at $8.

SALT—The demand has improved somewhat within the past week, but prices remain unchanged at $1,75 by the car load, and $1,90 to $2, in store.

FLOUR—Continues dull, and Spring Wheat brands continue to decline. We now quote at $7,25 to $7,50 for fair to good and $7,75 to $8 for choice. Rye Flour has dropped a quarter, being quoted at $8,25. The Pearl Mill prices are for Extra Family in barrels, $9,90 and in sacks $9,60 per barrel; Double Extra Family in barrels $10,40. and in sacks $10,10 per barrel. City Mills quote prices as follows: Extra Family, in barrels, $9,80, and in sacks, $9,50; Double Extra Family, in barrels, $10,30, and in sacks, $10 per bbl.

The Pittsburgh Gazette.

Winter and the Pacific Railroad—Progress Made by the Two Companies—The Race For Salt Lake—Anxious Hopes For a Dry Winter.

(From the Sacramento Union, October 8.)

The Union Pacific Company's end of the railway is now in running order to the crossing of Green river, very near the eastern line of Utah Territory. Another twenty-mile section will bring it to the Utah line, and another to the junction of Ham's fork with Black fork. The latter point is laid down on the schedule of distances as 883½ miles east of Sacramento. Red Dome, at the northern end of Great Salt Lake, is the point where the railway touches the Lake. It is 627 miles east of Sacramento, 256½ miles west of the Ham's fork junction, and about 296½ miles west of the crossing of Green river. From Green river to Red Dome, the point where their road will touch Salt Lake, the Union Pacific Company will have nearly 300 miles to build, and the last half of that will be the most difficult part of their work, including some heavy blasting, grading, bridging and probably tunneling. At last accounts the Central Pacific Company had reached Iron point, 350 miles east of Sacramento and 277 miles west of Red Dome, which point the Central is struggling to reach before the Union Pacific. In this contest the Union Company has the advantage in the number of builders, the Central in the quality of work to be done. The grading of the road on this side will be much lighter than that on the other side over the last 150 miles which each company will have to build. The Central Pacific are now progressing (grading and track-laying included) at the rate of 2½ miles per day. If our winter is as late as usual, they will not be much interrupted by snow until middle of November, by which time they ought to reach Gravelly Ford on the Humboldt, 414 miles from Sacramento and 213 miles west of Red Dome. If the winter proves to be, as many anticipate, an averege dry winter, we are not likely to have any snow to incommode out-door labor, before the middle of February. In that case there is a fair chance that the Central Pacific Company can have their road in running order to Preoquop Pass, (530 miles east of Sacramento and 100 miles west of Red Dome) before the inevitable March storms suspend work. But to do this, they must still make head, nearly at the rate of two and a half miles for every working day from this to the middle of February. But though the western company is now nearer to the northern point of Great Salt Lake, by a twenty mile section than the Union Pacific, and though they will have the advantage in easier grading for nearly the entire distance to be made, we doubt that they will be first to reach the Lake. The Union Pacific have already made great progress in grading, from Green River westward to where they meett the Mormon contractors with their forces. These latter are now working energetically on the worst parts of the route, and will probably have the contract finished up about as soon as those who are approaching them from Green river. The Union Pacific has the most laborers employed, and they had some months the start in reconnoitering and preparing for work on the Salt Lake sections. Moreover it is to be considered that, having reached Red Dome, the Central company are still over 100 miles from Salt Lake City. The city lies 100 miles to the southeast of the northern point on the lake. The Union Pacific road is now but a little over 200 miles from Salt Lake City, while the Central is 377 miles from it on the west. If the Union Pacific can progress for three months to come at the rate of 2½ miles per day, they will have reached the city of the Saints. At the very worst, if the winter does not set in before the middle of November, the Union Pacific will have it western terminus within 80 miles of Salt Lake City. If the winter remains open till the middle of January they will have nearly or quite reached Salt Lake City. There will then remain to be built only the gap between Peoquop Pass and Ogden, which is the point on the railway nearest to Salt Lake City. That gap is but 201 miles. It ought to be made by large coaches in two days, and after the first day of February next we hope to be in regular receipt of New York letters and papers not exceeding eight days after they are mailed.

Poisonous Stockings.

We have already noted the small panic created in England by the discovery that dyed hose produce poisonous effects. Dr. Tarral writes to the London Times:

"On the 2d of May last I was called in by Mr. M——, a merchant of Havre, to attend him for an acute affection of the feet, extending upwards to the ankle joints, and presenting the following symptoms: Diffused redness and tumefaction, followed afterwards by numerous vesicles, having all the appearance of acute eczema. During the progress of the malady I noticed the presence on both feet of red tranverse stipes at equal distance from each other. The course of the affection was altogether different from what is usually observed in vesicular diseases of the skin, and I was led to expect that some external poison had determined the symptoms described. Mr. M—— here came to my assistance by stating that the disease had developed itself under the influence of some socks purchased in London, and worn for twelve days. These socks, of a violet ground, had on them transverse streaks of deep red, which corresponded exactly with the stripes on the cutaneous surface of the two lower extremities. The affection was severe, and lasted a considerable time, producing great irritation and general constitutional disturbance."

To this the Pall Mall Gazette adds:

"In Marshal Saxe's Reveries upon the art of war, speaking of military clothing, he says: In regard to the legs and feet, I could wish the soldiers to have shoes made of thin leather, with low heels. These shoes must be worn upon the naked foot, and greased with tallow or fat—a precaution which we know from experience to have been made use of by all the French veterans—not only as it entirely preserved their feet from galling on a march, but as the grease prevented the wet, in a measure, from penetrating. The Germans, who make their infantry wear woolen stockens, have always great numbers crippled from blisters, ulcers, and all sorts of inflammatory humors in their legs and feet. There are all kinds of curiosities in this neraly-forgotten book. For one thing, Saxe continually recommends the use of breech-loading guns."

A FRENCH IDEA OF AMERICAN WOMEN.—At the Cluny Theatre in Paris they perform now every night a farce, the scene of which is laid in New York, and in which three strong-minded American women are the leading characters. They appear on the stage with enormous meerschaums, wear ten-pound waterfalls, horsewhip a timid gentleman, swear dreadfully, relate to one another what they had seen at the various club-rooms, make impertinent remarks about the passers-by, and behave in the most wonderful manner. One of them says she was married and divorced seven times. The French writers seem to think that there are plenty of such characters in America, and that the portraits of the women are not exaggerated.

An Iowa Divorce.

Indiana divorces have become so notorious, from the facility with which they are obtained, and the lack of respect with which they are generally regarded by the courts of other States, that they have become a by-word among all the people. But Indiana promises to have company in the loose divorce business. Iowa is kindly taking rank with Indiana; at least there is a case which indicates as much.

Several years ago a man residing in Pennsylvania visited Iowa, in company with his wife. He was so pleased with the State that he resolved to make it his home. Returning to Pennsylvania, he made preparations to remove his family to Iowa. But his wife absolutely refused to accompany him. She would not leave her comfortable home in Pennsylvania for the comparatively unsettled prairies of the West. Her husband, however, was determined to remove to the West, and leaving his wife, came to this State and located near Waterloo, in Black Hawk county. After a few years passed, property in Black Hawk county increased in value, and the Pennsylvania, with the property which he had left behind him and that which he had acquired in his new home, was accounted wealthy. His wife steadily refused to live with him in Iowa, and he therefore sued for divorce on the ground of desertion. The divorce was granted by the District Court Black Hawk county.

Not long ago the Pennsylvanian died, leaving a large property in Pennsylvania and Iowa. His divorced wife sued in the courts of Pennsylvania for her dower in the estate, and recently obtained judgment in her favor, the court holding that the divorce obtained in Iowa was a fraud, and null. The Pennsylvania judges have not a high opinion of Iowa divorces.—Dubuque (Iowa) Times.

"DANIEL WEBSTER," remarked old Col. Gumpey, as he trimmed a quid of nigger-head, and fastened it securely between two decayed teeth in the left side of his mouth, "Darnel Webster was a gret man. There wa'n't nothin' mean about him. I've hearn him talk, but 'twa'n't his talk so much as his ginerosity that tuck me. He had a kinder careless way like, that kept him from gettin' rich. He never seemed to think what things cost. I was a comin' up the Hudson river along with him once, and in the mornin' Darnel Webster and me was washin' our faces and slicken' our hair in the cabin, and he took out a tooth-brush and brushed his teeth. I didn't see no other tooth-brush around, so I borrowed his'n. And after I used it I handed it back to him, and what do you think? Why, Darnel Webster just slung that tooth-brush right inter the river. And I s'pose next day he went and bought him a new one. That's all he cared about money! There ain't no sech men as Darnel Webster living now," concluded the Colonel, meditatively, as he spirted a stream of tobacco juice into the fire place at the other end of the room.

PERSECUTION OF CHRISTIANS IN TURKEY.—Advices have been received in England of severe persecutions inflicted upon a Christian settlement at Mardin, near Diarbeker, in Turkey. This colony was organized some time ago as a distinct community nd received separaate tax lists. In 1864, a new and illegal assessment, more than doubling the taxes, was ordered to be made by the local authorities. These proceedings after an appeal to the Sultan, were set aside; but, notwithstanding the disapproval of their superiors at Constantinople, the magistrates of Mardin resolved to collect the tax, and seized seven of the principal Christians, who were sent to the camp of the Turkish soldiers and compelled them to perform the most odious kind of servile work, being at the same time beaten by their guards. The sufferers were then driven through the streets and beaten until they had made application to money lenders for the amount of the tax, for which an exorbitant interest had to be paid.

CITY AND SUBURBAN.

The election is over. Everybody is glad of it.

The Criminal Court was not in session yesterday.

The election is over. Christmas is the next sensation.

There is talk of opening City Hall for market purposes.

The election is over. Police news will brighten up now.

The expense of the Fire Alarm system was $390 last month.

The Democracy felt demoralized yesterday. The Republicans jubilant.

The police of Pittsbusgh were paid $6,683.35 for the month of October.

The new gas lamps on Ewalt street, Lawrenceville, were lit for the first time on election night.

Taken Over.—Amel Ingraham and Edward Smith, sentenced for one year, were taken over to the Western Penitentiary on Tuesday afternoon.

Meeting.—The Allegheny Councils will hold a regular semi-monthly meeting this evening, at half-past seven o'clock, in their Chambers, City Building.

House Hunters for next spring are commencing operations already. There are a large number of tenements to rent, and doubtless all can get suited.

Died Suddenly.—Christiana Bender, wife of Michael Bender, residing at 46 Centre street, Allegheny, died suddeuly from the effects of intemperance, Tuesday evening. Coroner Clawson will hold an inquest this morning.

Surety of the Peace.—R. A. Colville made information before the Mayor yesterday against Thos. Williams for surety of the peace. He alleges that Williams drew a knife and threatened to kill him. A warrant was issued.

Sneak Thieves are quite numerous in the city at present, and let no opportunity slip for picking up things. One of the scamps went into Mrs. Starr's boarding house Tuesday evening and stole an overcoat from the rack in the hall.

Street Improvements.—Butler street in Fifteenth ward is being repaved as fast as the new water main is laid. The track of the Citizens' Passenger Railway is also being laid at the expense of the city, the company furnishing the rails.

The Lawrenceville Fire Alarm Bell weighs about three thousand pounds, and cost in the neighborhood of $1,200, of which amount the city pays $500. The striking apparatus will cost about $950 additional, and will be ready for use in about a week.

A Toast.—The following toast proposed the other day, before the election, at a dinner party, not a thousand miles from Pittsburgh conntains sentiments and prophecy. "The Democratic hulk, she needs but one Sea-more to sink her." She had it on last Tuesday.

Distinguished Arrival.—We learn that Hon. Schuyler Colfax, Vice President elect, will arrive in this city this afternoon, and will remain until to-morrow, during which time he will be the guest of Gen. J. K. Moorhead. Trim your lamps, boys, and let us have a grand demonstration.

Horse Stolen.—On Tuesday after the election, Mr. Abraham Roderedick of Fayette county, rode a fine roan mare to Uniontown and tied her to a hitching post, at a hotel and after some time he returned, but found that his horse had disappeared. No clue to the thief has as yet been obtained.

Large Turnout.—On Monday last sixteen and one-fourth tons of iron was mannfactured at the establishment of Messrs. Graff, Byers & Co. This, we understand, is the largest amount of iron manufactured at any single bar mill in our vicinity in a single day's work, eleven tons being the largest heretofore.

Assault and Battery.—Fred Kauffeld made information, before Justice Ammon, yesterday, charging Frank Ziepel with assault and battery. It appears that the parties had a quarrel at the election on Tuesday, when, as the prosecutor alleges, the accused knocked him down. A warrant was issued for the arrest of Ziepel.

Letter Carriers to be Uniformed.—It is said that the letter carriers will be uniformed, Postmaster General Randall having issued an order to that effect. The uniform consists of pants, vest and jackets of "cadet gray," a cape bound with one-inch wide black alpaca, and a gray navy cap with broad band and cover for wet weather.

Off the Track.—The locomotive of the Fast Line on the Pennsylvania Railroad, due here at two o'clock yesterday morning, was thrown from the track at Edgewood, by a broken rail. It ran into the mud and was pretty badly used up. The cars of the train were also considerably wrecked, but no person was injured. All of the rolling stock can be put into running order again.

Pocket Picked.—While the Republicans were rejoicing over the good news in City Hall, Tuesday night, pickpockets were busily engaged in plying their nefarious avocation upon the jubilant multitude. Among a number of others, Mr. Dill A. Smith was relieved of a gold watch and chain valued at two hundred dollars, and his pocket book, containing a small amount of money.

Man Missing.—Fred, Kennedy, a German who formerly resided at 84, First street, Allegheny, left his home Saturday in company with a steamster named Jagg, since when nothing has been heard of him. His friends are quite anxious about him, and made every effort to learn his whereabouts, but without avail. It is stated that Jagg says he knows where Kennedy is, but refuses to give any further information concerning him.

Alleged False Pretence.—L. Stern made information yesterday before Alderman McMasters against William Lowry for false pretence. Stern, who is a liquor merchant, alleges that Lowry, proprietor of the Sherman House, obtained from him liquor to the amount of $500 by representing that he was the owner of a farm in Lawrence county, which yielded him an annual rental of $500, and that he owed no debts, representations which are said to be false. A warrant was issued.

Malicious Mischief.—Tuesday evening, when returning from the election in Lower St. Clair township, Mr. Conrad stopped at a tavern on the Brownsville Road and hitched his horse to a post, and while he was in the house Dennis Maley turned the horse loose. The horse went home and Mr. Rupp was compelled to follow him on foot. He yesterday made information before Justice Ammon charging Maley with malicious misahief. A warrant was issued for the arrest of the accused.

Attempted Suicide.—The news of the election on Tuesday evening had such a depressing influence on the spirits of the Democratic Speakers' Stand in the Allegheny Diamond as to cause it to attempt self-destruction by fire about midnight. The suicidal design, however, was noticed by those humane persons, the firemen, who, after considerable difficulty, succeeded in thwarting it. Perhaps the poor thing thought immediate annihilation preferable to a lingering existence at the headwaters of the river Salt.

Allegheny County.

We republish this morning the election returns for this county, so far as we have been able to procure them. The figures we have received show a majority of 10,736, and there are two districts yet to hear from, which, at the October election, gave a Republican majority of 12, which, added to the figures received, give a majority of 10,748. Following are the figures:

Amusements.

OPERA HOUSE.—A respectably large audience attended the Opera House last evening, to hear Miss Western. The entertainment consisted of "Satan in Paris," with "Sarah's Young Man" as an afterpiece. To-night will be presented "The Actress of Padua" and "The Pet of the Petticoats," with Miss Western in both pieces.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC.—The audience at the Academy of Music, to hear the opera of the "Bohemian Girl," as rendered by the Richings Opera Troupe, was a very large and fashionable one. To-night the great comic opera of "Crespino and the Fairy" will be presented.

MASONIC HALL.—The celebrated Morris' Minstrels, from Morris Brothers' Opera House, Boston, will commence a short season of six nights, at Masonic Hall, Monday night. The Morris troupe is one of the best minstrel companies now travelling, and from the fact of their having been here last season when they were general favorites, we have no doubt they will have a profitable season.

PEDESTRIANISM.—The much talked of race between the renowned French pedestrienne Madame Dejazet, of California, and Fanny Brown, the American "Barclay," will take place this afternoon, at four o'clock, at the West View Park, Perrysville. The contestants have a national reputation, in their line, and the race promises to be a very close and exciting one. Two miles has been fixed as the distance to be run, and as the track is in excellent condition, they will have every opportunity to exhibit their speed to the fullest extent. The Park can easily be reached, and the opportunity for a delightful drive over a smooth road, added to the attraction of the race, will doubtless attract a large concourse of spectators.

AN ATTRACTIVE ENTERTAINMENT.—Le. Vere's chemical diorama, or illustrated trip around the world will be exhibited this and to-morrow evenings in Excelsior Hall, Allegheny. The diorama embraces scenes illustrative of the creation of a number of celebrated places in the world, monuments, architecture, ancient and modern views in the Holy Land, and places made historical by the battles, sieges, &c., during the rebellion. The exhibition of the painting is accompanied with an explanatory lecture, which adds materially to its attraction. In addition to the regular evening performance, a matinee for ladies and children will be held on Saturday afternoon at two o'clock. The affair has achieved a reputation in other cities, and this in connection with the small admission price, twenty-five cents, should be sufficient to crowd the hall during its stay.

MUSEUM.—Major Burnell's Museum and Parlor Menagerie is the great resort for families in the way of amusements. It is open day and evening.

One More Unfortunate—The Confidence Business.

We have to add one more to the list of confidence game victims in this vicinity. The victim was a Cincinnati drover, who made the acquaintance of a sharper at the Union Depot, was induced to walk down street with him, and by a repetition of the same old dodge of the freight bill, was swindled out of one hundred dollars. It is but just to say in behalf of the officers of the Union Depot, at which most of these confidence games originate, that it is next to an impossibility to put a stop to them. People are constantly passing and repassing through the depot, passengers waiting for the trains, persons sitting around conversing together, so as to make it impossible to tell who are suspicious characters and who are not. Now, if any officer in the exercise of a vigilant spirit, should step up to any two of these persons whom he saw talking together and tell them to be on the lookout for each other; that men were being swindled every day, &c., &c., he would more than likely get insulted for his over-officiousness, if not treated in a rather worse manner. Besides, the chances are that he would accost respectable persons in this way, and make the matter worse rather than bettering it. There being no proof until the game has been played renders it impossible to stop the affair in time to save the victim. The only possible means of making any headway at all is to quietly spot all suspicious characters and note their movements carefully. This plan, if successfully carried out, will aid in a very great measure to put an end to the business; but still the only radical remedy is for the people to be on their guard and not be so readily influenced as to make fools of themselves by the smooth flattery and plausible tongues of oily sharper, such as these men always are.

The officers in charge at the depot we know to be as careful attentive, and vigilant as the best in the city, but it is of course impossible for them to tell when two persons are seen conversing at the Depot, that one is a rogue and the other a simpleton, or that when the two leave the depot together, that one will be swindled, and the other be the swindler. And yet this is all the data which they have to figure on in most cases, and indeed, the victim, after he has been swindled in many instances, cannot even given a description of the victimizer. The depot, officers however, are determined if it can at all be done to close up the business in their vicinity, and are on the alert. They have been furnished with descriptions of a few of these sharpers, none of whom, however, are to be seen about at present. In this connection, it may not be amiss to include the descriptions for the especial benefit of those who are by nature, and education both, as it sometimes seems, susceptible of being victimized in this manner.

The two chaps who figure in the last transaction are described as being of gentlemanly appearance, well dressed and excellent talkers. Sharper No. 1 wore a yellow colored suit made in the latest style, with striped pants, black round crowned hat, light chin whiskers, and about five feet six inches in height. The other man was much the same in appearanee, but had a black suit on and wore green goggles. They are spotted, and if any of them make an appearance in the neighborhood of the depot, they may consider themselves as prisoners.

Late last evening, we understand that a fresh delegation arrived from Chicago. The last party is composed of four persons, two of whom are large, heavily built specimens humanity. One of these two wears a green shade over the right eye, and is clothed in a suit of blue. Sharper No. 2 wears yellow pants with stripes, plug hat, blue coat, and is gifted with a remarkably smooth tongue. He is supposed to be leader of the gang. Numbers three and four are somewhat smaller in size, but well dressed and possessed with an innocent cast of countenance, which is just the thing to entice the unwary. The whole party, however, are known, a fact which, when they become aware of it, will doubtless serve to hasten their departure from town. But, that none may become their victims, we say in conclusion, be on your guard.

Presbyterian Union.

An adjourned meeting of the Joint Committee of the Reformed and United Presbyterian Churches, on the subject of organic Union between the two denominations, was held yesterday morning in the rooms of the U. P. Board of Publication, on Third avenue. Owing to the absence of Dr. McMaster, on account of sickness in his family, Rev. Joseph T. Cooper, D.D., of Philadelphia, was called to the chair and Dr. Easton acted as Secretary. Rev. J. F. Morton, of Cedarville, Ohio, opened the meeting with prayer. The following were the only members present: Revs. Drs. Pressly, Cooper, Easton and Douglas, and J. F. Morton.

As the Secretary was about to read the minutes of the previous meeting, inquiry was made whether there was a quorum present, and it being ascertained that there was not, Rev. John Douglas, D.D., moved,

That inasmuch as there is not a quorum of the members present, and it may not be convenient to meet again before the Supreme Judicatories of the two Churches shall hold their annual sessions; therefore

Resolved, That each Committee present to its own Supreme Judicatory at its next annual meeting the result of the deliberations of the Joint Committee at its previous session.

The motion was seconded by Rev. John T. Pressly, D.D., and was adopted unanimously.

The members of the Committee present then had an interchange of views on the subject of their meeting. All expressed themselves in favor of an organic union of the two bodies.

On motion of Drs. Douglas and Pressly, the Committee adjourned sine die., Dr. Easton leading in prayer.

Officers Assaulted.

The night police of Allegheny are beginning to be the subjects of attack by the rowdies. On Tuesday two of them assaulted officer Buhoup on Rebecca street, and knocked him down by striking him a powerful blow on the head with some blunt instrument. Some person in the neighborhood discovered him some time after lying on the sidewalk insensible, and had him conveyed to a house near by, where under the influence of restoratives he recovered.

Officer Quirk, on the same evening was knocked down by some person on Main street, but sustained no injury. The rowdies tried to play the same game on several other officers in different localities throughout the city but were foiled in their efforts. The perpetrators of such cowardly assaults should be dealt with in the severest manner whenever apprehended.

The Panhandle Railroad Accident—Death of Mr. Heils.

We published yesterday the particulars of the collision on the Panhandle railroad at Fort Pitt station, resulting in the fatal injury of Mr. John P. Heils. The unfortunate man was removed to Mansfield, where he died Tuesday afternoon. Coroner Clawson went down yesterday morning to hold an inquest, and arriving there he found that the body had been removed to Washington county, where the deceased had formerly resided. He empanneled a jury and went to the house where the body had been taken, after which the inquest was adjourned until such time as witnesses could be procured.

Some time between the 12th and 15th of the present month the annual meteoric shower is expected to take place in this country.

THE COURTS.

Supreme Court.

WEDNESDAY, November 4.—Court met at ten o'clock, A. M. Present, Chief Justice Thompson, Judges Agnew, Sharswood and Williams.

The Allegheny county list was resumed: Kaeling's Road Petition; Quarter Sessions. Argued by Woods for complainant, and by Burgwin, contra.

Lane vs. The Commonwealth; Allegheny county; Oyer and Terminer. Argued by Haines for plaintiff in error, and Duff contra. This was an application for a special allocatur, in the case of Lewis Lane, convicted of murder. The point upon which error was assigned was in the charge of Judge Stowe, before whom the case was tried, in the court below, and who charged the jury "that if they found the prisoner guilty, he was guilty of murder of the first degree, and they must so find in the verdict." This, Mr. H. contended, was clearly an error, and that although the statute did say that "murder by poison is murder of the first degeee," the same statute enacted that the jury should "ascertain the degree." He further claimed that the law as laid down by Judge Stowe, was, and would be, in direct contravention of the statute, and would take from the jury, what was their clear, legal and statuary prerogative. He cited the case of Rose vs. Commonwealth, in which the opinion was delivered by Chief Justice Woodward, and also other cases, in which the law, as he claimed it, was distinctly laid down.

District Attorney Duff, representing the Commonwealth, argued in opposition to the motion, claiming that where the statute, as in the case under consideration, defined murder of the first degree and what constituted it, there was no error in the court charging, as Judge Stowe had charged, and that in any other aspect of the case the verdict of a jury would nullify this or any other statute upon the statute books. He cited the case of the Commonwealth vs. Earle, and Commonwealth vs. Harmon et al., decided by the State Supreme Court, and also a case from Tennessee, in all of which he claimed his view of the law was sustained. Without expressing any opinion, the intimations of the Court leaned decidedly to granting a writ of error, and the general impression among those present seemed to be that it will be granted. It will, however, be of little avail to the prisoner, except to extend his lease of life for a brief period, as the error, if error it be, is purely technical and does not affect the merits of the case, which will doubtless be tried in December, if a new trial be allowed.

Allegheny Savings Bank vs. Meyer & Bro.; C. P; argued by A. M. Brown for plaintiff in error, and by Koethen, contra.

U. S. Court—Before Judge McCandless.

Court met at ten o'clock yesterday morning, when the jury in the case of Simmonds vs. Mary A. Sands, in bankruptcy, rendered a verdict for the respondent.

The next case taken up was that of Chas. A. Miller, alias Chas. H. Shaffer, indicted for perjury. The defendant was charged with having sworn falsely in making an affidavit in a case in equity pending in the Circuit Court of the United States, in which Edward A. L. Roberts was plaintiff and William Hinds defendant. A defect was found in the indictment, and the defendant's connsel made a motion to quash the same. The District Attorney asked and obtained leave to enter a nolle pros., and the defendant was required to give bail for his appearance at the January special term of Court. Messrs. W. D. Moore and J. H. Kerr were counsel for defendant, and District Attorney Carnahan and B. F. and A. G. Lucas, Esqs., represented the United States.

The case of the United States vs. William H. Wilson, indicted for embezzling letters from the mail, will be taken up this morning at ten o'clock.

Court of Common Pleas.

The Court of Common Pleas met at the usual hour, yesterday morning. Present, full bench.

There being no cases ready for trial, Court adjourned to meet on Monday morning at ten o'clock.

Larceny.

J. C. McGranahan made information yesterday, before Alderman Humbert, against Jack Reibel for larceny. The prosecutor states that he was in a saloon on the corner of Seventh and Grant streets, and had laid twenty-five dollars on the counter while he put he put his hand into his pocket to get his pocket-book, and while it lay there he aileges that Jack came in, snatched it up and made off. Jack was arrested and taken to the Alderman's office, and while the magistrate was making out a commitment he made his escape again. He was, however, re-arrested later in the evening and lodged in jail for a hearing.

The Allegheny Riot.

Mr. Geo. Bothwell, who was seriously injured in the Allegheny riot, the particulars of which we gave yesterday, was somewhat better last evening, but his recovery is yet considered doubtful. Richard Savage, who was committed to jail, charged with having been one of the assailants, stoutly denies the charge and asserts his ability to prove that he remained at his own home after eight o'clock on Monday evening. He has a scar on his face and had his head tied up yesterday, which, together with other suspicious circumstances, led to his arrest. Late in the day he was admitted to bail.

Alleged Larceny.—Robert McDonald, of Temperanceville, made information before the Mayor, yesterday, charging Thomas Dunchan with larceny. He stated that Duncan boarded with him, and that on Tuesday evening his pocket book was stolen, and as there was no one else about the house at the time, he believed Duncan had taken it. The accused was arrested and locked up for a hearing. He had been in durance vile but a short time, however, when the prosecutor appeared at the office and withdrew the charge, stating that he had found his pocket, with the contents undisturbed, in his cellar. Duncan was, therefore, discharged.

Smashers.—Sidney Davis and Samuel Booth, from all accounts, might be called regular "smashers." Mr. Samuel McMunn, of Robinson township, made information before the Mayor yesterday charging them with malicious mischief and assault and battery. He alleges that they came to his house, and without the slightest cause or provocation, smashed his window and broke twelve lights of glass. He remonstrated with them, whereupon they turned upon him and give him a beating. Warrants were issued for their arrest.

Wanted.—The authorities at Enon Valley want the body of Charles Haas, a German, who left that section of the country a few days since rather unceremoniously, and they are willing to pay a reward of twenty-five dollars for his arrest and detention. Mr. Joseph Worley, of Enon Valley, telegraphed to Chief of Police Irwin describing Haas, and stating that he had stolen one hundred and thirty-five dollars, a silver watch and an army overcoat. Look out for the thief.

The Academy of Music.

On Monday evening of next week the worthy Brothers Hanlon, accompanied by a large number of the best celebrities obtainable in Europe, appear before a Pittsburgh audience. By way of information we would state that all the Hanlons will appear at each exhibition, they having united for a farewell tour of the country. This announcement ought to crowd the Academy every night of their sojourn here. They have just concluded brilliant engagements in Baltimore and Philadelphia, and we do not remember of ever seeing an entertainment receive so much unqualified praise from the press of the Quaker City as the Hanlons, while in that city. The following was penned by Mr. Forney, of the Press, after beholding the wonderful achievements of the troupe:

"Taken altogether, the performance of the Hanlon troupe, now at the New Chestnut Street Theatre, are as delightful to the spectators, and as thoroughly unobjectionable from every point of view, as any exhibition ever witnessed in this city. There is a grace, elegance and security in the tremendous trapeze leaps of Pfau, the Russian acrobat, far surpassing anything which has ever been witnessed. We say this advisedly, since we learn from good authority that he is the first artiste in the daring trapeze school, one who flies like a bird, spreads himself to an extraordinary extent, making but one leap and two trapeze touches from the edge of the balcony to the extreme rear of the theatre.

The Hanlons are, of course, the same as ever, and their race on two-wheeled velocipedes, the wheels being in a line, and not side by side, is exciting and amusing. It looks very much as if a man should ride at a tremendous speed on a single cart-wheel, with another behind to steer his course. The Salt Lake journals are earnestly agitating the velocipede question, declaring that the article is just the thing for the plains. As velocipedes travel much faster than horses, it may be found advisable to mount a few regiments on these wooden horses to pursue the Indians, with the Hanlons as Rittmiester, We commend the entire exhibition with all our heart to the public.

Ladies' Furs—A Live House.

In business the strange contrast is presented of enterprising goaheadative houses being daily thronged with purchasers, from whom small profits are realized, whilst others drag on wearily content with receiving the visit of an occasional customer, whom they make pay large profits in order o compensate for the lack of numbers. Of the former class of dealers none is more representative than William Fleming, No. 139 Wood street, where purchasers without number flock to secure the great bargains and unequalled selection in hats, caps and ladies' furs, for which the house is so justly famous. Mr. Fleming has labored hard to accomplish successfully a system of large sales and small profits, and the community at large realize the fact that nowhere else can they deal to better advantage. Customers not only derive the benefit of the admirable selection offered in an immense stock, but, what is more, save from 15 to 25 per cent. on all purshases made. No other establishment in the city does so large and extensive a business in this line as Fleming's, and hence the opportunity for unusual bargains, as the house has unusual facilities for purchasing and of course can sell much lower than contemporary establishments. At Fleming's is constantly kept the largest and finest stock of ladies' and misses' furs, gent's fine silk and cassimere hats, gent's and boys' fine French hats, being altogether the finest stock ever offered in this section of country. Courteous gentlemen are in constant attendance to wait on visitors and show goods, and the reader can be assured that under no consideration will false representations be made to accomplish sales, and that all goods purchased at this house will prove, in use and wear, fully equal to what is represented at time of sale.

NEW YORK, August, 7th, 1868.

MR. EDITOR:—Several of your correspondents, very old old and respectable no doubt, seem to be wonderfully exercised as to the origin of our PLANTATION BITTERS. So long as these Bitters are all that we represent them to be, we do not know that it makes any difference from whence they come, or from whence they originated; but for the information of the public generally, and old Capt. Wentz in particular, we will say that he told the truth, and that these Bitters originated in the West India Islands—that many of the ingredients have been favorably used for over a century, but our combination of Cailsaya is entirely new, and our own. The rum and other materials are the same, and as your correspondent says, a better Bitters and Tonic is not made. We recommend them particularly for dyspeptics, fever and ague, debility, loss of appetite, and in all cases where a tonic and stimulant is required.
